

Nicole Mertens, seated right, of Galva, leader of the Family Readiness Group for Battery F, 202nd Air Defense Artillery, checks out one of the two video conferencing centers now set up at the National Guard Armory, in Galva for families of members of the Galva unit, or any military personnel serving in the Middle Eastern theater. The Galva Lions Club raised the funds and set up the centers and has now turned their operation over to the family group. On hand were Galva Lions members Sue Goodale, seated left; and standing, Frank Prosser, left, and John Goodale.
